Dear Steve:

It was a coincidence that the day after I requested your address from Brother L. D. Webb I received your letter and the kind invitation from your family. Few days have passed since my meeting in California this spring that I have not thought about you and your devotion to Christ. The book you gave me has been on my desk since returning from California, and I have thought about you and it almost daily.

My family and I appreciate your invitation and will be happy to visit with you if arrangements can be made.

You do recognize the tremendous burden under which I will be working because of the nature of our campaign. It will require the very best within me. I am sure that we could not spend all day with you on September 6 but might possibly be able to have a meal and visit with you a part of the day. You will have to check with Brother Webb about this matter. He is in charge of all the arrangements. Whatever is best for the meeting and can be worked out to your satisfaction will be agreeable to us.

Thank you so much for your kindness and thoughtfulness.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
